Abstracts

Value sales through mobile are still significantly lower than e-commerce, though growing faster, and are particularly popular with the younger generation. tPago is the leading service provider for mobile payments in the country, with leading banks offering the service, and it is accepted by many retailers who also accept credit and debit cards. Contactless mobile payments at the POS and QR code scanning are also slowly gaining penetration.

Euromonitor International's Mobile E-Commerce (Goods) in Dominican Republic report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
