Abstracts

While current value growth for mobile e-commerce was lower than in 2020, when payments more than doubled, growth was still very healthy in 2021. Value sales through mobile are still significantly lower than overall e-commerce, though growing faster, and are particularly popular with the younger generation. More people in Uzbekistan own smartphones than personal computers and this is driving a lot of value growth. The use of messaging platform Telegram has also grown significantly as a way of com...
