Abstracts

Mobile e-commerce is one of the channels with the least quantitative analysis, even less than e-commerce, and Croatia lacks an official agency to publish reliable data. Instead, data is gathered from various unofficial sources and interpretations are made. Nonetheless, it is clear that mobile e-commerce has largely benefited from the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020 overall. This boost has likely come from the younger generation who are more comfortable to make transactions via their mobile device. The...

Euromonitor International's Mobile E-Commerce in Croatia report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
