Abstracts

In 2022, Belgium faced high inflation and fluctuating energy prices, slowing GDP growth. Even though private automobiles are the preferred means of transportation, rising car prices and semiconductor shortages led to a fall in sales. Electric vehicle demand surged, but key obstacles remain high costs and inadequate charging infrastructure. Autonomous vehicles have also experienced notable progress in recent years. Public transport and car rental have struggled to recover from the impact of COVID...

Euromonitor International's Mobility in Belgium report offers a comprehensive guide of the traditional and newly emerging mobility forms. The report is broken down into five key areas of industry research: automotive sales and ownership, electric and alternative fuel vehicles, shared mobility, public transport, and autonomous vehicles and connectivity.
