Abstracts

User-friendly programming tools and more affordable computing have underpinned a flowering of creative new retailing apps. This means that digital retail is no longer the preserve of the largest companies with the deepest pockets. Smaller retailers are coming to market with exciting new ideas, and cutting edge technology is being used on a wider scale than ever.

Euromonitor International's New Concepts in Retailing: Digital global briefing offers an insight into the size and shape of the retailing industry, highlights emerging trends, their effects on retailing in markets around the world, on the development of channels and consumers' shopping patterns. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market – be they the developments of new store types, the importance of non-store retailing, economic/lifestyle influences, private label or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success.

Product coverage: Non-Store Retailing, Store-based Retailing.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
