Abstracts

Although smoking prevalence and the number of smokers in Slovakia have been falling gradually, they are still considered high, compared to other European countries. In December 2022, the Slovak government approved an action plan, with a focus on further reducing smoking prevalence and the number of smokers, as well as restricting the access of minors to tobacco products. Although the plan emphasises the need to reduce the health risks for people who do not stop smoking, there is no proposal for...
