Abstracts

Given the small-scale production of organic farming in Portugal, even the limited demand in the country exceeds supply. Demand, which has been rising, reflects the growing concern of consumers in relation to the quality of food and environmental preservation, especially since the COVID-19 pandemic. Organic packaged food continued to see good overall retail volume growth at the end of the review period, also benefiting from ongoing new product development.

Euromonitor International's Organic Packaged Food in Portugal report tracks the developments of health-associated product types and the healthy-option positioning of competing brands across different food sectors. It provides the latest retail sales data 2017-2021, allowing you to compare health and wellness categories with each other or in the context of the total market for a sector. It identifies the leading companies, the leading brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market- be they new product developments, legislative context or lifestyle influences. Forecasts to 2026 illustrate how the market is set to change.
