Abstracts

The high sales growth being seen in paediatric consumer health in the Philippines is largely due to the country's relatively high birth rate and the culture of not skimping when it comes to spending money on children. However, it should be noted that the birth rate in the Philippines is slowing down, in line with wider trends that are being seen across Southeast Asia. Nonetheless, per capita there are more babies being born in the Philippines than in many other countries around the world, and th...
