Abstracts

The market for paediatric consumer health showed an improved performance in retail volume terms in 2023. While the COVID-19 outbreak temporarily hindered its progression, it showed signs of a revival during the year, as children spent more time outside, engaging in social interaction, which led to a growing incidence of common illnesses and ailments. Moreover, with the number of reported cases of influenza having surged during the winter of 2023, children accounted for a large share of such infe...
