Abstracts

Having plunged by more than a third in 2020 due to a combination of restrictions on movement and the economic shock of COVID-19, retail constant value sales (2022 prices) of personal accessories began to rebound in 2021. While this recovery continued into 2022, the rate of growth slowed significantly. As inflationary pressure mounted (with the annual rate reaching double digits during the middle part of the year) due to a spike in energy and food costs arising from the war in Ukraine, many Spani...
