Abstracts

Personal wipes in Latin America continue to see growth, despite economic disruptions, recording one of the highest growth rates worldwide. With the exception of Venezuela, all countries in the region maintain a positive trend in value and volume sales. While baby wipes still accounts for the majority of sales, the region sees ongoing innovation and product differentiation within personal wipes. Euromonitor projects sustained growth of personal wipes in the region through 2022.

Euromonitor International's Personal Wipes in Latin America global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the tissue and hygiene market, highlights buzz topics, emerging regions, countries and categories as well as pressing industry issues and white spaces. It identifies the opportunity zones within tissue and hygiene, analyses leading companies and brands, assesses the importance of private label and offers strategic analysis of major factors influencing the market - be they new product developments, economic/lifestyle/environmental influences, distribution or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success.
