Abstracts

Performance was muted for premium beauty and personal care in 2022. The energy crisis stemming from the war in nearby Ukraine led to soaring double-digit inflation. With this backdrop, current value sales of premium beauty and personal care products increased significantly, though growth in constant value sales remained unchanged. With consumers being more price sensitive, there was a degree of trading down, with consumers happy to trade down to certain high quality mass products.

Euromonitor International's Premium Beauty and Personal Care in Latvia report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2018-2022, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. Forecasts to 2027 illustrate how the market is set to change.
