Abstracts

After seeing only sluggish retail unit volume growth, at best, in the earlier years of the review period, shelf stable fruit and vegetables packaging recorded a spike in demand due to the arrival of the pandemic in 2020, followed by further positive growth in 2021. The previous sluggish or stagnating growth had chiefly been due to a lack of innovation, with players proving reluctant to invest in new pack types in this category as demand for shelf stable fruit and vegetables was weak or even dimi...

Euromonitor International's Processed Fruit and Vegetables Packaging in Australia report offers insight into key trends and developments driving packaging across the category. The report also examines trends and prospect for various pack types and closures: metal packaging, rigid plastic, glass, liquid cartons, paper-based containers; flexible packaging.
