Abstracts

Processed meat, seafood and alternatives to meat achieved minimal retail volume in 2023, although current value growth remains robust. Consumer demand has slowed down due in part to the country's negative population growth. Rampant inflation has resulted in a significant increase in unit costs of most input materials, including the price of livestock fodder. Higher retail prices have underpinned double-digit current value growth in 2023, with higher prices dampening consumption as a result.
