Abstracts

Global production of major appliances continues to grow, though at a slower pace, thanks to China. Five years on from the crisis, the World is seeing recovery; however, this has not been enough to return to pre-crisis levels in most categories when excluding China. The next region driving growth is Eastern Europe, mainly thanks to relocation from the West. This is changing the production landscape, with some traditional markets becoming the worst performers and newcomers showing good prospects.

Euromonitor International's Production of Major Appliances: Five Years on From the Crisis , What Does the Landscape Look Like ? global briefing offers a comprehensive guide to the retail sales data, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. The report also identifies the leading companies/brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the competitive landscape - be it new product developments, technological innovations, economic/lifestyle influences, distribution or pricing issues. Additionally, trade statistics and producer's shares will answer questions on where appliances are produced and where they are being exported to, how quickly these units are moving, which companies are producing how much, and whether all categories are behaving in the same way. Collectively, this gives a complete view in both marketing and production planning strategies. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change.
