Abstracts

Consumer health companies have announced strong sustainability commitments, mirroring consumers' accelerating worry. The industry starts behind other adjacencies that have navigated their environmental commitments for years; the consumer health industry would be wise to learn from their successes and mistakes as they scale up their approaches in the coming years. This brief outlines the state of sustainability in consumer health and how the industry will develop on this front in the 2020s.

Euromonitor International's The Promise and Difficulties of Sustainability in Consumer Health global briefing examines the size, growth trends and potential opportunities in the Consumer Health market. The strategic analyses include assessing the impacts of changing regulations, research breakthroughs and public health concerns on both the market and leading companies. Consumer attitudes towards the products and their personal healthcare needs are also explored.

Product coverage: Allergy Care, Herbal/Traditional Products, OTC, Paediatric Consumer Health, Sports Nutrition, Vitamins and Dietary Supplements, Weight Management and Wellbeing.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
