Abstracts

While Japan dominates ready meals in Asia Pacific, other countries are showing stronger growth due to less saturation and lower per capita consumption. Future growth is expected to be driven by growing demand for convenience due to busier working lives. Further improvement in cold chain logistics and storage will enable manufacturers and retailers to sell more ready meals products.

Euromonitor International's Ready Meals in Asia Pacific global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the Packaged Food market, highlights buzz topics, emerging geographies, categories and trends and identifies the leading companies and brands. It also offers strategic analysis on driving packaged food industry trends like health and wellness, premiumisation, convenience and value-for-money and how those trends influence factors like new product developments, packaging innovations, retail distribution and retail pricing both historically and into the future.

Product coverage: Cooking Ingredients and Meals, Dairy Products and Alternatives, Snacks, Staple Foods.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
