Abstracts

After experiencing a deep contraction in 2022 due to the shock of the Russian invasion, retail in Ukraine saw total current value sales rebound at an impressive pace in 2023 as consumers and businesses adjusted to the new reality. However, recovery was skewed by steep price hikes amidst stubbornly high inflation, with the war continuing to take a heavy toll on trade across the market. This was primarily because approximately six million people who left the country at the outset of the conflict h...
