Abstracts

Restrictions with a corresponding national lockdown were imposed swiftly in March 2020 when the country reported its first COVID-19 death. The Guatemalan government's measures to curb the spread of the virus were very restrictive until July 2020. Many malls and businesses were closed during this period, and consumers' mobility contracted to a minimum. #stayathome was a trending topic and consumers started acclimatising to the changes that the pandemic had brought. After July, restrictions gradua...
