Abstracts

The Uzbeki economy had been growing strongly prior to the pandemic, as the government's liberalisation policies led to increased foreign investment and a diversifying economy, supported by a young population. The economy also looked set to recover quickly from the disruption caused by COVID-19. This was good news for retailers and in 2021 and there was a healthy increase in constant value sales and while inflation was still an issue, largely driven by increased food prices, it was lower than in...
