Abstracts

Moscow and Saint Petersburg are set to remain the largest markets in Russia by 2025, due to large populations and the highest income levels. However, prevailing demographic challenges will pose fiscal sustainability risks over the long term. Hence, regional centres, such as Yekaterinburg and Rostov-on-Don, are forecast to maintain dynamic economic development, supported by growing foreign direct investments, developed networks of technology centres, and improving infrastructure.

Euromonitor International's City Review reports analyse key trends and developments in 126 world's major cities. They provide localised city information in terms of economy, consumer lifestyles, housing and transport and city environment and offer valuable insights for strategic planning.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
