Abstracts

Despite economic and political instability hampering sales of sanitary protection, growth picked up in 2017 and is set to remain strong over the forecast period. Across the region, the use of sanitary protection remains far lower than in more developed regions. Awareness of modern menstrual hygiene is growing and a combination of urbanisation, women entering the workforce and growing availability in retail are all driving demand. However low spending power presents a challenge to manufacturers.

Euromonitor International's Sanitary Protection in the Middle East and Africa global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the tissue and hygiene market, highlights buzz topics, emerging regions, countries and categories as well as pressing industry issues and white spaces. It identifies the opportunity zones within tissue and hygiene, analyses leading companies and brands, assesses the importance of private label and offers strategic analysis of major factors influencing the market - be they new product developments, economic/lifestyle/environmental influences, distribution or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success.

Product coverage: Away-from-Home Tissue and Hygiene, Retail Tissue and Hygiene, Total Tissue and Hygiene.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
