Abstracts

The Middle East and Africa is the second fastest growing region globally with an increasing consumer base. Increased westernisation and added need for convenience have ensured robust growth for sauces, dressings and condiments. The industry is highly consolidated in a few countries and highly fragmented in a few, with Unilever and Nestlé the market leaders. With strong growth forecasts due to economic recovery, this region has strong potential for the category in the coming years.

Euromonitor International's Sauces, Dressings and Condiments in Middle East and Africa global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the Packaged Food market, highlights buzz topics, emerging geographies, categories and trends and identifies the leading companies and brands. It also offers strategic analysis on driving packaged food industry trends like health and wellness, premiumisation, convenience and value-for-money and how those trends influence factors like new product developments, packaging innovations, retail distribution and retail pricing both historically and into the future.

Product coverage: Cooking Ingredients and Meals, Dairy Products and Alternatives, Snacks, Staple Foods.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
