Abstracts

In 2023, sleep aids is set to maintain positive retail volume and current value growth. Different ages have different needs when it comes to sleep; for example, younger children need around 10 hours of sleep, teenagers eight hours, adults six hours, and the elderly only need four to six hours. However, these groups of people are not always able to achieve the needed/recommended number of hours of sleep. They therefore sometimes resort to using sleep aids to help them get enough hours of sleep, o...
