Abstracts

Latin America remains a relatively small and slow-growing market for sportswear, affected by the recent economic crises in Argentina and Brazil. However, as the global health and wellness trend and the casualisation of dress codes encourage Latin Americans to adopt new lifestyles, they are increasingly purchasing performance and sports-inspired apparel and footwear, with economic recoveries and the development of internet retailing expected to accelerate this growth going forward.

Euromonitor International's Sportswear in Latin America global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the apparel market, highlights buzz topics, emerging trends as well as pressing industry issues. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the clothing and footwear market - be they changes on the supply side, in channel dynamics, economic/ lifestyle /demographic influences or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success.
