Abstracts

Jeans is predicted a 2% CAGR over 2017-2022, mainly driven by standard jeans. The circular economy will define the jeans industry in the years to come. More sustainable dyeing processes, water efficient practices and fair labour conditions will create the right values for those jeans companies targeting consumers willing to identify themselves with the same ethical values. Creating new materials, textures and jazzy designs will be the pillars of a new jeans industry that is rising once again.
