Abstracts

Sunscreen experienced robust growth in 2023, following a surge in demand driven by travel in the previous year. While volume growth normalised after the travel-driven spike in 2022, sunscreen sales continued to soar, primarily led by value due to price increases. Consumers became increasingly conscious of the importance of protecting their skin from sun damage, particularly as outdoor events and festivals resumed following pandemic-related restrictions.

Euromonitor International's Sun Care in Canada report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2019-2023, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. Forecasts to 2028 illustrate how the market is set to change.
