Abstracts

Sunglasses in the UK recorded a strong decline in value sales in 2020 as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. Sunglasses were the most-impacted category in eyewear in the UK during 2020 due the lack of social occasions, travel and mobility restrictions and the obligation to wear face masks, which did not help to encourage UK consumers to buy additional pairs of sunglasses. However, sunglasses sales have since been recovering, finally returning to pre-pandemic levels in current value terms in 2023.

Euromonitor International's Sunglasses in United Kingdom report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level.
