Abstracts

Super premium beauty and personal care in Malaysia was negatively affected by the country lockdown enforced between 18 March and 4 May 2020. During this time, non-essential retail stores were required to close, including standalone stores and department stores such as Isetan, Parkson and AEON. As a result, consumers could only access super premium beauty and personal care via online channels for this two-month period. However, store-based retailers were allowed to reopen in stages from 4 May onwards...
