Abstracts

2009 was a particularly torrid year for the British economy, and UK consumers were seeking to save money in every way possible. It could be thought that simple everyday necessities such as toilet paper would suffer as consumers looked for the cheapest, most basic options available. However, this proved not to be the case, with many brands performing well, suggesting that consumers have not completely deserted them.

Euromonitor International's Away from Home Tissues and Hygiene in United Kingdom report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2005-2009, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. It identifies the leading companies, the leading brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market – be they new product developments, distribution or pricing issues. Forecasts to 2014 illustrate how the market is set to change.
