Abstracts

Effective from 8 Jan 2023, the Chinese government lifted inbound travel restrictions, such as testing and contact tracing passes, effectively ending the country's "zero-Covid" policy practiced for the last three years. Subsequently, international travel has resumed to and from China, which had been put on hold during the pandemic. Domestic travel, which had also been devastated due to repeated lockdowns and stringent mobility restrictions, is notably improving.

Euromonitor International's Tourism Flows in China report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest market size data 2018-2022, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. It identifies the leading companies and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market - be they new legislative, technology or pricing issues. Background information on disposable income, annual leave and holiday taking habits is also included. Forecasts to 2027 illustrate how the market is set to change.

Product coverage: Domestic Tourism, Inbound Arrivals, Outbound Departures.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
