Abstracts

Traditional toys and games saw a second year of modest growth in constant value terms in 2022, following a plunge in demand in 2020. Sales were boosted by improved economic conditions, as the country emerged from the COVID-19 pandemic. With the easing of movement restrictions, retail outlets within shopping malls reopened for business, which supported impulse purchases. In addition, the return of toy conventions, such as ToyCon, were also crucial in driving sales of traditional toys and games in...
