Abstracts

Within grocery, traditional retailers are the dominant format in Bolivia, generating around ten times the value of sales generated in modern grocery retail. Typically, these outlets serve a hyper-localised consumer base, offering a limited range of products, a focus on lower prices and frequently rudimentary forms of home delivery and consumer credit. Outside wealthy urban areas, the channel is almost wholly dominant.

Euromonitor International's Traditional Grocery Retailers in Bolivia report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
