Abstracts

Traditional toys and games saw a second year of modest growth in constant value terms in 2022, following a plunge in demand in 2020. Sales were boosted by improved economic conditions, as the country emerged from the COVID-19 pandemic. With the easing of movement restrictions, retail outlets within shopping malls reopened for business, which supported impulse purchases. Most local consumers continue to prefer to purchase traditional toys and games in person, as shopping is considered a recreatio...
