Abstracts

Travel and tourism continues to remain on track, outperforming the global economy. Pricing pressure will remain in the near term as there are major uncertainties buffeting the world economy, namely the Trump administration, Brexit, as well as the flaring up of regional tensions across the world. China is expected to become the world's largest source of outbound tourism demand by 2022 driven predominantly by GDP per capita and the rise in middle-class households.

Euromonitor International's Travel 2018: New Insights and System Refresher global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the Travel market, highlights buzz topics, emerging geographies, categories and trends as well as pressing industry issues. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market from innovation, pricing, channel distribution to economic/lifestyle influences. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and outlines the criteria for success.

Product coverage: Activities, Booking, Flows, Lodging, Travel Modes, Traveller Profiles.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
