Abstracts

The first major impact the COVID-19 outbreak had in Jordan began in March 2020, with a total lockdown seeing the closure of borders. As the situation worsened, other countries across the globe also began implementing travel bans and restrictions, consequently making it impossible to travel between countries (and even regions) unless necessary. Between March and May, the majority of flights to and from Jordan were grounded, with only a few for cargo and essential travel being permitted. During th...
