Abstracts

In 2014, Liechtenstein was chosen as one the 20 “must see” places in the world by National Geographic Traveler magazine, which helped the country to gain popularity among a wider range of travellers. Inbound arrivals were set to record an increase in 2014, reversing the declining trend seen during previous years. However, room nights were still expected to decrease within lodging because of travellers shortening their stays, especially during the key winter skiing season.

Euromonitor International's Travel in Liechtenstein report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest market size data 2010-2014, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. It identifies the leading companies and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market - be they new legislative, technology or pricing issues. Background information on disposable income, annual leave and holiday taking habits is also included. Forecasts to 2019 illustrate how the market is set to change.
