Abstracts

Travel retail registered moderate but positive growth in value sales during 2013. However, the situation in the category is not particularly positive and there are many independent companies operating in travel retail in the Netherlands which are struggling and even some which are not expected to survive the forecast period. However, generally speaking, travel retail is recovering from the negative effects of the economic recession, even where some other travel retail categories are struggling.

Euromonitor International's Travel Retail in Netherlands report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest market size data 2009-2013, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth.
