Abstracts

As a result of the difficult economic situation in Slovenia, travel retail did not show a positive performance in 2013, with a registered 1% decline in value sales. As was expected, online sales showed positive development and increased by 6%, while offline sales declined by 2% in 2013. Therefore, since offline sales represent over 97% of overall travel retail sales, an increase in online sales did not make much of a difference.
