Abstracts

Unicasa continued to struggle in 2016, posting a decline in value sales due to poor performances from its four brands in home furnishings, namely Dell Ano, Favorita, New and Casa Brasileira. The company's difficulties over the review period were further heightened by the macroeconomic climate in 2015 and 2016, leading to falling demand for indoor furniture. As a result, the company continued to restructure its business in order to achieve more positive financial results over the forecast period.
