Abstracts

In Asia Pacific, trends around healthy lifestyles and prevention among older consumers trying to avoid expensive healthcare costs and extend healthy lifespans are generating growth opportunities for VDS firms, while growth is concentrated mainly through two channels: direct selling and online retail. The region shows increasing opportunities for herbal/traditional dietary supplements due to its history of traditional medicine, with China and Japan leading the region.

Euromonitor International's Vitamins and Dietary Supplements (VDS) in Asia Pacific global briefing examines the size, growth trends and potential opportunities in the Consumer Health market. The strategic analyses include assessing the impacts of changing regulations, research breakthroughs and public health concerns on both the market and leading companies. Consumer attitudes towards the products and their personal healthcare needs are also explored.

Product coverage: Allergy Care, Herbal/Traditional Products, OTC, Paediatric Consumer Health, Sports Nutrition, Vitamins and Dietary Supplements, Weight Management and Wellbeing.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
