Abstracts

A growing number of Iranians are becoming overweight and obese due to the general lack of physical activity as a result of deskbound working conditions and unhealthy eating habits, which has been fuelled by the rising popularity of fast food in the country. This trend accelerated in 2016 as a consequence of rapid westernisation and more hectic lifestyles. Overweight consumers were targeted with numerous weight loss products in 2016, with sports and fitness equipment such as treadmills proving pa...
