Abstracts

Demand was saturated during the pandemic-induced boom. Big ticket purchases are now suppressed by a cost-of-living crisis. Not having a fully realised omnichannel strategy created vulnerabilities; new small store openings are part of a correction, as is ongoing fulfilment investment. Rising interest rates make business debt less sustainable; casualties are visible in homewares. Consumers value wellness, sustainability via both durability and circularity messaging, and multifunction spaces rise.

Euromonitor International's World Market for Homewares and Home Furnishings global briefing offers the big picture view of the size and shape of the Home and Garden market. The report delivers strategic insight into some of the key areas of the market, including emerging regions, countries and categories, as well as pressing industry issues and white spaces. It identifies opportunities, analyses leading companies and brands, and offers analysis of major factors influencing the market. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success
