Abstracts

Africa Construction Market was valued at USD $530 million in 2026 and is projected to reach USD $1.25 billion by 2035, registering a CAGR of 10.0% across the forecast period. The Africa Construction Market continues to expand as expanding mobile-first infrastructure, a young population base, and rising foreign direct investment reshape demand across the value chain.

“Equipment is projected to hold the largest share of the Africa Construction Market through 2035.” This segment continues to gain traction owing to strong existing adoption, favorable total cost of ownership, and vendors bundling advisory and integration services around it to lengthen customer relationships within the Africa Construction Market.

“Automotive is likely to remain the leading end-user segment of the Africa Construction Market.” Budget cycles among these buyers are lengthening as procurement teams weigh total cost of ownership more heavily than upfront price, reshaping how vendors package and price africa construction offerings for 2026-2035.

“Africa continues to lead adoption within the africa construction market.” Africa benefits from expanding mobile-first infrastructure, a young population base, and rising foreign direct investment, reinforcing its position as a priority market for vendors through 2035.
