Market Overview

DNS (domain name system) security software protects DNS servers and the websites they serve. DNS security software routes end-user web traffic via filters that can detect malware signatures and other potentially hazardous website and media characteristics.

Market Highlights

DNS Security Software market is expected to project a notable CAGR of 9.35% in 2031. DNS Security Software market to surpass USD 2548.15 million by 2031 from USD 1042.64 million in 2021 at a CAGR of 9.35% in the coming years, i.e., 2022-31. One of the key factors fueling the growth of the DNS security software industry is the identification and blocking of high-risk traffic at the DNS level. Furthermore, the DNS security software industry is expected to increase due to the ability to monitor traffic for hazardous sites and scan content for viruses.

DNS Security Software market: Segments segment to grow with the highest CAGR during 2021-31

DNS Security Software market is segmented by Type into Cloud-based and On-premise. The Cloud-based segment held the largest market share in 2020 and is anticipated to register the highest growth over the forecast period. Due to its high convenience, flexibility, affordability, and low cost of deployment, this segment is gaining favor in a range of businesses. Similarly, organizations may simply scale up and down with cloud deployment. As a result, many small and medium-sized businesses believe cloud deployment to be the most effective deployment platform in recent years.

SMEs segment to grow with the highest CAGR during 2021-31

DNS Security Software market is segmented by organization size into Large Enterprises and SMEs. Over the projection period, the SMEs sector is expected to increase at the fastest rate due to the need for streamlining the business processes cost-effectively across SMEs. The majority of SMEs are still testing with DNS Security Software technology; however, due to cheap infrastructure costs and transparency, the adoption rate in the SMEs category is projected to rise significantly in the next years.
