Global Food Service Equipment Market: Segments

Global Food Service Equipment Market can be segmented on the basis of product, end-use, and region.

By Product, it can be further categorized as cooking equipment storage and handling equipment, ware washing equipment, food, and beverage preparation equipment and serving equipment.

By End-use it can be sub-segmented into full-service restaurants and hotels, quick-service restaurants and pubs, and caterings.

The region segment can be further divided into five major types including North America, Latin America, Europe, APAC, and MENA.

Global Food Service Equipment Market: Drivers and Restraints

Increase in the foodservice sector to propel the market growth

The increase in the growth of foodservice sectors globally and rising processed food consumption as well as the need for quick-service restaurants to drive the market growth. The foodservice equipment manufacturers aim to focus on the long term cost-effective services that can be provided to improve food quality.

The high cost of foodservice equipment and lack of skilled operators are hindering the market growth.

Global Food Service Equipment Market: Regions

The region segment can be further divided into five major types including North America, Latin America, Europe, APAC, and MENA.

APAC region is predicted to register the highest growth in the market due to the high standard of living of people in developing countries such as India, China, Japan, and the growth of hotels and restaurant businesses. An increased population is also a driving factor in the growth of the market in APAC. Ware washing has increased preference in MENA due to the changing consumer spending patterns and rapid urbanization.
