Abstracts

Atmospheric water generation (AWG) uses technology to produce potable water from surrounding air. Water vapor in the air can be extracted by condensation - cooling the air below its dew point, exposing the air to desiccants, or pressurizing the air. This provides the potential to expand water availability during shortages, contamination events, and other issues that can interrupt drinking water services. The global atmospheric water generator market is likely to register a CAGR of over 8.1% with an incremental growth of USD 1.3 billion during the forecast period 2022-2028.
