Abstracts

Property management software is a platform that allows real estate organizations to more efficiently manage various aspects of renting and maintaining residential and commercial property portfolios. Some core functions involve tenant and lease tracking, which gives property managers a centralized way to store and access tenant information, applications, and lease agreement documents. Rent collection functionality enables the automated acceptance of online rent payments along with processing of late fees. Additionally, built-in maintenance request modules allow tenants to conveniently report any issues directly to property staff. Managers can then assign and track repair tasks. Financial reporting capabilities provide real-time visibility into income and expense details to simplify accounting tasks.
