Charcoal toothpastes and powders are fashionable oral hygiene products, intended for toothbrushing, extrinsic stain removal and, it is claimed, 'tooth whitening'.

The charcoal dentifrices market is growing as a trending oral care product. Charcoal dentifrices, often in toothpaste form, contain activated charcoal derived from sources like coconut shells. Market expansion is driven by the demand for natural teeth-whitening solutions and the removal of surface stains. Charcoal's porous structure is believed to adsorb stains and toxins from teeth. As consumers seek alternative oral care products, the market for charcoal dentifrices is anticipated to continue growing. With a focus on natural ingredients and cosmetic dental care, charcoal dentifrices address the desire for effective and eco-friendly teeth-whitening options in the oral hygiene sector.
