According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Cotton Crepe Bandage market size was valued at US$ 113 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 156 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 4.8% during review period.

Cotton crepe bandages are lightweight, soft, and highly absorbent medical dressings made from 100% absorbent cotton or cotton blend yarns through a special twisting and weaving process. Their surface has a uniform crepe structure to enhance elasticity and fit. They are primarily used for wound dressing, postoperative fixation, exudate absorption, and as a padding layer in conjunction with plaster or pressure bandages. The upstream of the industry chain includes suppliers of medical absorbent cotton, cotton yarn, non-woven fabric raw materials, and textile auxiliaries; the midstream consists of medical device manufacturers, which must possess Class II medical device registration and GMP production qualifications; and the downstream covers hospitals, clinics, pharmacies, e-commerce platforms, and home care users. Due to low raw material costs, mature production processes, and their status as basic consumables, the industry's overall gross profit margin is between 30% and 55%. In 2024, global cotton crepe bandage production was approximately 55 million pieces, with a global average market price of approximately US$2 per piece. In 2024, global cotton crepe bandage production capacity was approximately 70 million pieces.
